

Sample Data from Periodic Table Properties Lab

Each “well” contains a mixture of the solution on the row with the column. Solutions that are soluble stayed dissolved and were clear, solutions that were insoluble when mixed formed a white solid (a precipitate).